Our unique History

THEODORE HOUSE
Stonyhurst

Set on the gorgeous Stonyhurst Estate, in the picturesque Ribble Valley, Theodore House is a Grade II listed building previously known as the Old Mill.

Dating back to the 1840s, the site was a corn mill built by the Jesuit school after relocating to Stonyhurst Hall from St Omer, in Europe in 1794.

The Old Mill was carefully renovated by The Christian Heritage Centre at Stonyhurst - a Catholic educational charity - as a study, retreat and conference venue, winning the 2019 regional Building Excellence award from LABC.

Theodore House is an idyllic location for both peaceful B&B accommodation, as well as a flexible, ultramodern facility for conferences, events, launches, seminars, corporate away days and business meetings.

Our flexible Venue spaces

Planning a corporate away day meeting? Looking for an idyllic venue for a product launch? Need to organise in-house training and need a venue with accommodation? Whatever your needs, Theodore House has the solution.

Flexible, ultramodern spaces that can cater for anything from a small, off-site boardroom meeting to a 150-guest event: we can accommodate all eventualities. Want to organise a brainstorming away meeting that needs accommodation? We can help you too.

With an option of three venue spaces and their combinations, and 24 en-suite bedrooms, Theodore House is ideally positioned to be the best possible partner for your upcoming event. Ample parking, Wi-Fi throughout, audio-visual and IT support and on-site catering facilities all come as standard at Theodore House.

Our Retreat facilities

Theodore House was conceived of as a place of spiritual and intellectual renewal, which is fulfilled in great part through the events run by the The Christian Heritage Centre charity at Theodore House.

We welcome Catholic and Christian organisations looking for a venue for their own retreats, conferences and courses. Offering a stunning and tranquil setting, the prayerful space and silence of Theodore House make for an ideal venue.

Theodore House has its own Oratory, and the beautiful parish church of St Peter's is located next door.

Theodore House is also a fantastic location for those groups looking for a 'retreat style getaway' offering peace, calm, and unbelievable countryside views, in addition to the Theodore House venue, accommodation and catering experience.

Our dining room overlooking the luscious garden and woods around Theodore House provides seating for up to 40 guests.

Although we operate a B&B regime, we offer catering for groups, with full board options for residential groups, dependant on the group size. A lovely terrace area surrounded by pleached-trees offers a tranquil outdoor space to take tea or coffee whilst chatting with family or friends, or to just contemplate the amazing natural beauty.

Menu options can be specifically tailored to each event and its budget, using locally sourced produce when possible, in keeping with seasonality. Being fully licenced, we offer a range of quality alcoholic beverages, including locally-produced beers and spirits.

Whether you are looking for fine dining for a business meeting, an open buffet for a conference, or multiple pass-around canapés for a press conference or product launch, we are able to ensure that your culinary expectations are met.

Our privileged Location

The Stonyhurst Estate is set in the heart of the Ribble Valley, which in turn is officially at the centre of the United Kingdom.

Located near the confluence of the Rivers Hodder and Ribble, Stonyhurst is a gateway to the Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty that is the Forest of Bowland.

The Ribble Valley has something for everyone: heritage for the history-lovers; stunning trails and treks for walkers and cyclists; a range of gastronomic experiences, be it for the more discerning food enthusiasts or simply to fill an empty stomach; idyllic villages and numerous cultural events.
